Problem Statement

- In the fast paced and tech. driven world often times emotions are not openly shared or discussed
 - Never even take the time to ask
 - How your child/student are filling ?
 - Are you happy today ?
- What would make tomorrow a better day for you ?

Those questions which should be asked on a regular basis and the happiness of your child/student should be constantly monitored. and that's we come up with solution like

Solution ?

Development of happiness index for schools with self-assessment facilities

Features:

- Daily Mood tracking of student
- History of mood (Weekly/Monthly/yearly)
- overall happiness index of student/class/school
- Activity Tracking and predicting of Future Mood
- Visual Stats

INDEX

Business Model:

The happiness index shows the quality of life the students are living in different schools.

The schools with more happiness index will increased there prestige as compare to other schools And the students will be more attract towards that school.

So this business modal is a subscription based business model in this the schools have to take subscription to get access.

This will show the average happiness of a class as well as the individual students also.

This is an example for schools but there can be more institutes like big MNC,
The food or clothes factories which will show the happiness or satisfaction of workers or employees.
